

Exhausted, largely from lack of nourishing food, a youngster in a nursery school on Ile de Sein has to be aroused by the sister in charge to get a welcome cup of milk. Early this summer the tiny island, off the west coast of France, was completely isolated by storms and the Red Cross only recently was able to get through with food and clothing. The population was suffering badly from undernourishment.

Anyway, This Pig Swims

The controversy over whether or not pigs can swim, touched off by reports from Bikini that atomic bomb test pig No. 311 was found swimming in the lagoon hours after the explosion, appeared in a Kirland, Wash., test. Tossed into Lake Washington from a bathing raft, shoed along by comely aquatic swineherds, "Gardena" made the 60 feet to shore in 16 seconds.

Says Chinese Kicked Into Yangtze, Shot

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese soldiers herded hundreds of Chinese to the Yangtze River after the fall of Hankow in 1938, kicked them into the water and shot them when their heads bobbed up. A. A. Dorrance, former oil company official, testified today at Tokyo's war crimes trial.

"It was extremely impersonal," said Dorrance who had stood on the bridge of an American gunboat and watched the grim proceedings.

"They simply marched them to the river, kicked them into the water and shot them three or four at a time."

Dorrance, a prosecution witness against Hideki Tojo and 26 other accused war criminals, said the Japanese halted the massacre when they became aware they were being watched from the gunboat. But they loaded the remaining Chinese into a launch, took them a quarter of a mile away and concluded their sordid task.

Freighter Ready To Proceed On Own Says U.S. Master

LONDON (AP) — Cmdr. C. J. Van Arsdall, master of the U.S. destroyer Perry which answered the SOS of the U.S. Lines American Farmer, a week ago, declared today that the damaged food ship was ready to proceed under her own power when a tiny British Salvage steamer started towing her.

The American Farmer, a $4,500,000 prize claimed by the British Ministry of Transport, was expected to reach Falmouth tonight.

U.S. Naval Headquarters issued Van Arsdall's statement—the first naval version of what British newspapers asserted was "battle" between British and American crews for the Farmer which was damaged in a collision at mid-night last Wednesday with the William J. Riddle, also an American freighter.

The British Government has laid salvage claim to the American Farmer and her cargo and a British lawyer indicated the case might be settled out of court. The lawyer said the government had filed claim on behalf of the Ministry of Transport and the 2,039-ton Elizabete.

The Perry put in at Dartmouth and the British government-owned Elizabete, which claimed it was the "salvage" vessel, was to dock at the Welsh port of Barry late today.

The destroyer captain's statement said:

"When we arrived at daybreak on Aug. 4, the Elizabete had one tow line to the American Farmer and the American Ranger was standing by. The Farmer was flying the British flag. During the morning the Elizabete put out a second tow line.

"The American Ranger, acting on orders from the United States Lines, continued to make preparations to bring the damaged ship to port under her own power, against the wishes of the master of the Elizabete.

The U.S.S. Perry took no action to aid either party since her mission was purely rescue and her services were not required.

"The Elizabete made no headway with the tow from the time of our arrival until about 1500 hours (3 p.m.), Aug. 4, at which time, with four lines to the stern of the Farmer, she commenced towing at about one knot.

"At this time, the Farmer was

Revaluation Cost Put At $1,500,000

OTTAWA (CP) — Revaluation of the Canadian dollar to parity with United States currency cost Canada an estimated $150,000,000, Harry Jackson, P.C., Toronto, Rosedale, said today in the Commons.

Continuing Progressive Conservative opposition to continuation of the Exchange Control Board, Mr. Jackson said this loss was distributed among all Canadians and, in a sense, made them individual "speculators" in the currency market whether or not they wanted to be.

Elevators' Tricks Frighten Traders

WINNIPEG (CP) — Battered from the wheat futures business for another four years by government decree, members of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange thought they'd had enough clouts over their cumulative heads. But today lightning struck a fuse in the elevator shafts.

Carriages which were taking traders down to the Exchange floor—skyrocketed to the building's roof, and upward-bound operators found themselves heading for the basement. One elevator man, who was working his first day on the job, leaped off at a passing floor and resigned. Trading in rye futures was uninterrupted by the elements.

All But Russ Talk

SHANGHAI (Reuter) — The Chinese newspaper Sin Pao today gave this picture of the five big powers at the Peace Conference:

"The French act immediately after they have talked.

"The British act while they talk.

"The Americans only talk after they have acted.

"The Soviet act and don't talk at all.

"The Chinese talk and talk but do nothing."

Paging The Tentmaker

If the white shirt shortage has you down, shed a tear for Henry Hite, Chicago giant appearing at Milwaukee's Centurama. He asked Gus Weinburg, left, and Harold Stern, right, local haberdashers, for a dozen shirts. Their 5-foot tape measure was too short to take in Hite's 7-foot, 6-inch wingspread, but they settled at size 17 1/2 collar and 41 1/4-inch sleeve. The dozen shirts cost $124.

Victoria Swimmers Lead At Kelowna

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — First upset of the Kelowna Regatta was the defeat today in a preliminary heat of the 50 yards backstroke of Norah Kirkpatrick of Vancouver. She finished fourth to Joan Morgan of Victoria, the Salmon of Victoria and Lois Scott of Seattle.

Miss Kirkpatrick holds the Canadian backstroke championship. She will compete in the finals however as four qualify.

Quake Death Toll Increases To 28

CUIDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The known dead in Sunday's earthquake and tidal wave mounted to 28 today and the Dominican Geographical and Geological Institute said the tremor might have shaken up and changed the ocean bed at its deepest point in the Atlantic.

Tremors still shook the island Tuesday.

Official reports indicated the tidal wave might have hit Bahia Escoeca (Scotch Bay), levelled the towns of Matanzas, Nagua, Arroyo Salado and El Bajio.

Stabbina Shooting Choice Given Wife

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Mrs. William Gantt, 19, testified today her estranged husband forced her to accompany him to a wooded spot on the edge of the city, placed her in a crude grave and gave her the choice of death "by stabbing or shooting."

She said she escaped when the husband left, at her request, to get her something to eat.

Judge J. W. Parker placed the husband, William Lee Gantt Jr., under a $1,000 peace bond pending grand jury action.

Mrs. Gantt, mother of a three-year-old boy, said the husband met her near her home and at knife point forced her into his automobile.

"I told you," she quoted him as saying, "that if I can't have you nobody's going to have you."

She said that when her husband went away thinking she could not get out of the hole, she escaped by climbing out with the aid of a shovel.

Vines Shoots 65 To Take Lead In Golf Tourney

NIAKWA GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB, Winnipeg (CP) — Elsworth Vines of Chicago, former national United States tennis champion, today shot a spectacular seven-under-par 65 to tie the 15-year-old course record and take the lead in the opening round of the $10,000 Canadian Professional Golfers' Association open tournament.

The bespectacled six-foot Vines' putter was as hot as the sun that broke out of overcast skies after intermittent showers as he sizzled around the outgoing nine in a three-under 33 and the back stretch in a four-under 32.

On the first nine he fired four successive pars and then followed with three straight birdies, winding up with two pars before making the turn. He continued the torrid pace at the start of the incoming nine with three straight birdies before taking a par-three on the 13th and a one over five on the 14th. He then fired a par and two birdies and another par for his record-equalling score.

His par-shattering round took the lead away from slim Fred Wood of Vancouver, Nick Widdow of Toronto and Windsor, Ont., Jimmy Thomson of New York and Los Angeles and George Fazio of Los Angeles, winner of the Canadian open at Montreal July 1. They all shot three-under-par 69's.

OTTAWA (CP) — R.C.A.F. orders have been issued permitting officers and warrant officers to wear civilian clothes on duty at Air Force Headquarters but not on operation stations. The practice was in vogue before the recent war.

Room To Expand, Air Head Advises Victoria Planners

"The trouble with our planning in the past has been our under estimating of our airport requirements; you must have room to grow," stated Croll Hunter, president of Northwest Airlines, on his arrival Tuesday. Mr. Hunter is here with his complete board of directors, which includes Col. E. Gardiner, twice governor of Maine and leader of the U.S. paratroopers on their jump into Sicily. The party came west to Seattle to inspect the first of 10 new Stratocruisers being built by Boeing for Northwest Airlines, at a cost of $1,500,000 each. Mr. Hunter is very anxious to make Victoria a link in his company's system. Northwest is the fourth largest United States airline and recently was awarded the licence to fly the Great Circle route from North America to the Orient.

VICTORIA'S PROBLEM

Mr. Hunter was the guest of the Greater Victoria Airport Committee at a dinner at the Empress Hotel Tuesday night and was questioned in regard to the best policy for airport development in this area. The relative merit of the two sites, Patricia Bay and Gordon Head, were outlined to him by R. H. B. Ker, chairman of the committee.

Mr. Hunter regarded two airports as commendable, but said that a 5,000-foot runway, which is the maximum planned for Gordon Head, would only be satisfactory provided there was a water approach in the direction of the prevailing wind.

In order to give the committee some idea of the growth of aviation Mr. Hunter said all planes in operation today were obsolete. Strides and developments of materials had delayed delivery of new types. He said his company had ordered a commercial adaptation of the famous B-29 plane. It would have a pressurized cabin, fly at 30,000 feet at 300 miles an hour and passengers would not suffer from rough air or changes in altitude. The company had hoped to have these planes very shortly but they learned in Seattle that it would be at least one year before the order would be filled.

AIRPORTS TOO SMALL

Many airports today were too small to meet the requirements of new planes and they had no room to expand. He advised that airports be established where there would be ample room for development even if it necessitated a long ride by taxi from the centre of a city.

Airports in the future would provide not only landing strips but would require space for freight, restaurants, customs and immigration buildings, as well as hangars, machine shops, office buildings and special structures in which the expensive equipment for blind flying would be installed. Wide speedways would have to be provided to the airports.

Mr. Hunter foresees a tremendous development in flying as soon as equipment is flowing off the assembly lines. His company will start a flight to Alaska shortly and already has done much experimental work on the route to Tokyo.

LIKES VICTORIA ROUTE

He thinks the Victoria-Seattle route offers great possibilities and he would like to fly five trips a day on it but admits the international committee has awarded this flight to Trans-Canada Airlines.

Mr. Hunter came to Victoria aboard the 70-foot yacht Sea Crest, owned by R. M. Hardy, wealthy Seattle man, who is a director of Northwest Airlines. Joshua Green Sr., who has long been interested in Victoria through his operations with the Puget Sound Navigation Co., was in the party with his son. Mr. Green thinks it would be a wonderful thing to have the airlines running five trips a day into Victoria.

Other directors on the trip are: A. E. Sloan, vice-president, secretary and general counsel; R. O. Bullwinkel, vice-president traffic; N.W.A.; Edwin White, St. Paul; William Stern, Alonzo Petties, Denver, Col.; L. M. Leffingwell, St. Paul, and Philip Armour, Chicago.

Fishermen Abandon Tuna Hunt, Turn To Coho To Recoup Losses

The greater number of salmon trollers which have been in search of tuna are now giving up and returning to fishing for salmon, according to Elgin Neish, president of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, Victoria, who painted a gloomy picture of tuna fishing this year.

Nearly 30 tuna vessels were in Victoria over the week-end, but only two had any quantity of fish. They were the Louvel II, owned by L. Hagland, Sooke, which brought in 3,000 pounds, and the Annie Tuck, owned by J. Babcock, which brought in only 1,300 pounds after 12 days out.

The tuna vessels have been fishing all the way along the coast from Cape Cook to south of the Columbia River, with very indifferent success.

Some of the salmon trollers have already given up tuna fishing. Mr. Neish said one troller owner had lost all the money he had made in earlier fishing, and like the others, was turning back to fishing for coho in the hope of partially making up his losses.

However, Mr. Neish added, the coho fishing had not been good either, although reports were being received of fairly heavy runs off Uchelet and fishermen were already making their way up there.

PILCHARD ACTION

Mr. Neish also reported pilchard fishermen on the north coast of Vancouver Island were considering abandoning pilchard fishing. He had received word the fishermen would meet in a few days on the grounds to discuss the matter.

However, he commented, the contemplated action of the pilchard fishermen seemed a drastic one to be taken at this time of the year. Last year, pilchards were being caught as late as November.

Association reported output of paper, other than newsprint, in United States mills was at the rate of 104.7 per cent of capacity in the week ended July 27, compared with 93.4 per cent a year ago.

After the unveiling, T. F. Beresford played "O Rest in the Lord." Rev. G. H. Holmes referred to the loss sustained by the church of one of its most faithful members in the death Sept. 13, 1942, of P.O. Beddis while in Atlantic action.

Band Concert Tonight

Seventh in a series of band concerts, sponsored by the B.C. Electric Railway Company, will be played in Beacon Hill Park this evening, commencing at 7.30. The band will be under the direction of Alfred Prescott, Arthur Stringer will be the guest soloist. The program follows: "Old Comrades", overture, "Morning Noon and Night", "Night and Day", selection, "Ok'ahoma", "When Day Is Done", trumpet solo, "Romance", Robert Clarke, soloist, overture from "Snow White", March of the Toys, from "Babes in Toyland", Grand Military Tattoo.

Transport System Specifications to Go to 4 Councils

Special meetings of the four councils of Greater Victoria will be requested by Ald. H. M. Dignon, chairman of the five-man Greater Victoria transportation committee, to consider draft specifications which, at a meeting Tuesday, received unanimous approval of the committee.

Ald. Dignon declined to reveal details of the terms of the specifications until after the four councils had met and considered them. "I am asking that these meetings be held in camera, so that if there are any alterations, the specifications will come back to the committee before they are made public," he said.

He anticipated there might be several of the terms which would cause controversy in one or more of the councils.

He said that the committee felt public ownership of the system was not desirable at this time, but had written a clause into the specifications which would permit the municipalities, at stated intervals, to take over the system if they felt it advantageous.

He set the end of August as the outside date for the calling of tenders for the unified transportation system, pointing out that the Public Utilities Commission had already approved the draft specifications.

Final details for all-bus transportation service for the principal sections of Esquimalt were completed Tuesday by the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Public Utilities Commission and the municipal council.

At a special meeting the council gave final passage to a by-law permitting the company to extend the bus line the full length of Esquimalt Road to the Naval Dockyard. Buses will run on a 12-minute schedule.

Under the new plan the streetcars will operate on a 15-minute service as far as Head Street. Two special daily streetcar trips will be run for dockyard workers arriving at the former terminus at 8 a.m. and leaving at 4.30.

According to H. Rowland Halls, traffic superintendent, the company will operate three routes into the municipality. The present Munro Street route, covering the section south of Esquimalt Road and the Colville Road route through the area north of Esquimalt Road will remain.

The new route will go direct from the city over the Johnson Street Bridge and Esquimalt Road.

Weather

Rapid clearing during the early morning has resulted in clear skies this morning across southern B.C. with variable cloudiness over the northern interior and overcast skies persisting over the Charlottes and north coast. The cool air that was over B.C. for the past 48 hours has now moved over the prairies. Hence higher temperatures will prevail today and Thursday across southern B.C. The clearing has resulted from a high pressure area building up from the south west.

Victoria and Vicinity—Clear. Southwest winds 15 m.p.h. today decreasing to light early Thursday and becoming southwest 10 Thursday afternoon. Little change in temperature today and Thursday.

Vancouver and Vicinity. Georgia Straits—Clear today and Thursday. Northwest 15 m.p.h. decreasing to light by late evening becoming northwest 10 Thursday afternoon. Warmer today, little change in temperature Thursday.

Lower Fraser Valley—Clear. Light winds. Warmer today, little change Thursday.

Assessor-Collector

A. V. Danby has been appointed assessor-collector for Victoria and will take over his duties from G. A. Okell, the middle of this month.

Mr. Danby, who is a native son, born in Victoria in 1890, joined the City Hall staff in 1911 as paymaster. He served in this capacity, acting as paymaster for the Sooke Lake pipe line when it was constructed, until the outbreak of World War I, when he joined the Victoria 48th Highlanders.

After four years overseas he rejoined the civic staff in 1919, as a member of the treasury department. While here he handled land registry work and all tax sales.

In 1927 he was transferred to the assessor's office as assistant assessor, and with the reorganization of the civic departments in 1935 he was made assistant assessor-collector. During the years he served with the treasury office and the assessor's department he worked on all phases of the work.

2 Victoria Brothers Victims In Burning Of Small Fishboat

Two Victoria boys, Leslie Sutcliffe, 19, and his brother, Wallace Sutcliffe, 14, met death when their 28-foot gillnetter was gutted by flames off Dallas Road breakwater Tuesday morning, it was discovered today as B.C. police brought to a tragic close their 24-hour investigation into the mystery of the vessel's identity and that of those aboard.

According to the boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Sutcliffe, 240 Russell Street, the two had left at 7.45 Tuesday morning to sail for Steveston where they planned to begin fishing Thursday. Mrs. Sutcliffe said, "we don't know what went wrong."

No trace of the boys' bodies has been found by B.C. police who set out early this morning aboard the naval vessel Adamsville for the reef where the gutted gillnetter lay.

With Cpl. L. Backler and Const. N. Fiander was Mr. Sutcliffe who identified the boat as the one in which his two sons had left Victoria.

Today the blackened and charred hull of the gillnetter carried sand and gravel washed into it by the sea which enveloped it at high tide. Attempts are being made to use naval lifeboats to form a cradle to bring the hulk into port.

First intimation of the tragedy came at 10.15 Tuesday morning when the boat burst into flames. Some eyewitnesses say they heard an explosion before the fire began; others said they heard no explosion.

Attempts were made to come alongside the burning craft, but would-be rescuers were driven away by the intense heat of the flames from the gillnetter.

T. Taylor, B.C. Pilot Authority boat skipper, said he heard cries of help coming from the fishboat but could see no one aboard. Alf Perry, who rowed out with Ormond Holt to the scene 30 minutes after the vessel was seen, discovered only shoes, clothing and bedding, but no sign of bodies.

B.C. Police immediately began an investigation to discover the vessel's identity, but the day went by with the identity of the vessel and its occupants still remaining a mystery, although all local wharves and fisheries concerns were contacted.

By evening, the police had search parties scouring the shoreline and had issued a request for any information which might lead to identification of the vessel and its owners.

Mother Was Also Killed By Fire

Mrs. Sutcliffe is the boys' stepmother. Their mother was burned to death in an accident at Chemainus about five years ago, where the family lived up to approximately three years ago. It is understood she was fatally burned while using kerosene to light a fire in the kitchen stove.

Mr. Sutcliffe, who married the present Mrs. Sutcliffe about one year ago, has been employed for three years as a mechanic at Allan's Drive-In Garage, 1331 Esquimalt Road.

Several weeks ago when a fire broke out in the Sutcliffe home on Russell Street, the 14-year-old son, Wallace, one of the victims, was mentioned in news dispatches as having extinguished the blaze. He was credited by firemen with having saved the house from being destroyed.

An older brother of the two victims, Gordon, is in the merchant marine. There are three married sisters residing in Saanich, Alberni and Mission. At home are several step-brothers and step-sisters.

Withdrawal Hits Big Hospitals

Cancellation of special permits granted to nurses from other provinces will affect hospitals caring for approximately 50 per cent of the patients in British Columbia according to estimates based on figures obtained from the provincial secretary's office today.

Statistics for 1945 showed that out of a total of 141,202 patients, 71,387 were in hospitals operating schools of nursing. Under provincial regulations graduate nurses not holding British Columbia permits will be forced to withdraw from these institutions because of cancellation of their special permits by the Registered Nurses' Association of B.C. Although only seven of the province's 75 hospitals contain

He said identity of the Sweeney-McConnell firm would be preserved, and the business would be conducted as a separate enterprise.

Weir Expected Back

Education Minister G. M. Weir, confined to hospital and his home since stricken during a Vancouver-Point Grey election rally several weeks ago, is expected to return to his office in a couple of weeks.

Col. F. T. Faircy, deputy minister of education, said today he had seen Dr. Weir Tuesday and he was making good progress.

Once Acquitted On Spying Charges Shugar Re-arrested

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. David Shugar was remanded until Sept. 16 by Deputy Magistrate M. J. Sauve today in Magistrate's Court. Bail was set at $3,000.

Shugar, a wartime naval anti-submarine expert, was charged with conspiracy and of breaking the Official Secrets Act of 1939. He has already been freed once on other espionage charges.

His second detention—he was one of the original 13 suspects detained last Feb. 15—followed the final report of the Royal Commission on espionage which mentioned the fact that he had already been discharged from court on grounds of lack of evidence for committal but said its two Supreme Court judges still considered him guilty of communicating secret information to Russia.

Dr. Shugar, a Polish-born physicist, was the only one of 14 Canadians charged with espionage activities to be freed by a magistrate.

Magistrate Glenn Strike declined to commit him on a charge of conspiring to break the Official Secrets Act. Magistrate Strike now is on holidays so some other judicial figure will at least start the preliminaries of the new Shugar case.

He was the fourth person to be arrested as a result of the final report of the Royal Commission. The other three—W. M. Pappin, Ottawa Passport Office Clerk; Henry Harris, Toronto optometrist, and Dr. John Soboleff, Toronto medical practitioner—were all linked with an attempt to get a false passport for a Russian agent operating in the United States.

All cases linked with the espionage investigation have been set over until next month and it is quite possible that a similar step will almost immediately be taken in the Shugar case.

2 Bids Submitted On Alberni Highway

General Construction Co. of Vancouver, which holds about $1,500,000 worth of B.C. Power Commission contracts at Campbell River, today submitted the lowest tender to the provincial Public Works Department for rebuilding the Alberni Road from Parksville to the north end of Cathedral Grove.

General Construction tendered to do the work for $708,430. Only other tender submitted was that of B.C. Road Engineering Co. Ltd., of Vancouver, $910,984.

General Construction Co., building the dam, powerhouse and pipeline "right-of-way" for the Campbell River hydro-electric development of the B.C. Power Commission, Tuesday was awarded the contract for clearing 600 acres of land to be inundated by the headman pool, where Irene Pool now is. This contract was for about $197,000.

The tenders for the Alberni road project were opened by Works Minister E. C. Carson. The job consists of rebuilding and rerouting of the road for a distance of 20 miles.

King 27 Years Liberal Leader

PARIS (CP)—Prime Minister King entered his 27th year as leader of the Liberal Party in Canada by sitting at a table in Luxembourg Palace today as Peace Conference delegates wrangled over rules procedure into the early morning hours.

Later by a private gathering of the Canadian delegation, arranged by Health Minister Brooke Claxton, Mr. King was elected Liberal leader at an Ottawa convention in 1919.

Unless peace-conference commitments intervene he plans to visit the battle fields of Caen and Falaise this week.

He intends to drive to Caen Saturday, returning to Paris Sunday. The following week-end he will go to Dieppe for the fourth anniversary of the Canadian raid. Late in the month he likely will visit Berlin and possibly some other parts of Germany.

WELCOMES SUGGESTION

In the resolution on Pat Bay, the committee stated that it "believed the proper development of Southern Vancouver Island is seriously handicapped by the present state of air communications to and from this area, and for that reason it welcomed Mr. Howe's suggestions for the substantial development of civil flying facilities at Patricia Bay, and for better access to and from that airport by road from Greater Victoria, and urges that these improvements be speedily undertaken."

On the other hand, the committee continued, "highest air experts have agreed there are only two possible sites on southern Vancouver Island suitable for commercial airports, namely Gordon Head and Patricia Bay."

As it was convinced "that the time is rapidly approaching when population growth on southern Vancouver Island will overtax the capacity of Patricia Bay or any other one airport to handle with efficiency," it recommended the holding of Gordon Head for a future airport.

Attending the meeting were Ald. Gadsden, Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, Ald. H. M. Diggon, for Victoria; Reeve A. G. Lambriek for Saanich; Councillors J. A. Moir and J. V. Johnson, Oak Bay; Councillor E. J. Reid, Esquimalt; and Maj. H. C. Holmes and R. H. B. Ker, Chamber of Commerce. (See Page 2 for "Room to Expand.")

LABORIOUS PROCEDURE

ANOTHER "LABOR OF COMPROMISE" seems to have paid dividends at the Paris Peace Conference. But concrete results were achieved only after a long and acrimonious debate. By a vote of 15 to six, the Soviet Union and five other members of the Slav bloc compromising the minority, the two-thirds majority procedure will be submitted for approval to the 21 participating nations in plenary session. This will apply only to decisions respecting "substantive" matters. Such "recommendations" as will be turned over to the "Big Four" for their consideration as the Council of Foreign Ministers will require only a simple majority. From the outset of the parley, of course, Mr. Molotov had insisted on the two-thirds margin on all decisions—much to the distaste of most of the "middle" and smaller member states which preferred the looser democratic method.

To observers of the scene from afar these discussions over procedure and other technicalities of debate seem both trivial and dangerous. But those who watched the birth of the United Nations and its Charter at San Francisco last year became quite accustomed to this kind of interplay. Much of it was wholly unnecessary and did not materially affect the final result. On the other hand, it gave those delegates with only the vaguest concept of parliamentary processes an excellent insight into the manner in which free men of goodwill are able to disagree and compromise without hard feelings and a subsequent period of sulking. Naturally the spokesmen for the Soviet Union and for those Balkan states that are unfamiliar with democratic procedure do not take kindly to those forms of compromise which are a vital bulwark against despotism under any guise.

Although these apparently pointless debates obviously agitate the minds of the millions of people throughout the world who are expecting the representatives of the 21 nations in Paris to confine themselves to the establishment of peace in Europe through the instrumentality of treaties that are just, nobody should seriously worry over differences of opinion on which the public everywhere is kept fully informed. Not even the obdurate frame of mind which seems to imprison any will to compromise which Mr. Molotov may possess should increase the doubts about the ultimate peace structure. Soviet propaganda which seems to distort truth, moreover, is bound to fail if the citizenry of every country will take pains to contrast it with the conduct of leaders in other lands who are striving might and main to live in harmony with Russia.

FORCING A TRAGEDY

THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE representatives of the British and United States governments concerning the problem of European Jewry and Palestine seem to have inflamed rather than allayed the resentment of both Jews and Arabs. On their part, the Jews seem determined to transport and disembark as many refugees as possible before any further examination of the problem by those responsible can be made. The Arabs are now asserting that many of these immigrants are trained soldiers who served on one side or the other during the war in Europe. President Truman has given no indication of going beyond his original offer to transport 100,000 immigrants, and the British seem perfectly ready to leave the whole matter to the United Nations; but are determined, meanwhile, to prevent any such immigration.

Apparently, neither the Jews nor the Arabs are willing to let matters rest until the United Nations can adjudicate the dispute. Probably they are both convinced that the recommendations of the "Expert Delegation" would provide the basis of any settlement proposed by the General Assembly and to which they are both irreconcilable. The crux of the whole matter seems to centre in the present determination of the Jews to force immigration, and of the Arabs to prevent it.

It is difficult to see what alternative Britain has. If she withdraws, she will be accused of precipitating civil war, the end of which no man can foresee, but which would most certainly lead to far worse conditions for the Jews in Palestine than for those who remain as refugees in Europe. If the United States would co-operate in keeping law and order in Palestine until the United Nations could take over the responsibility, it would undoubtedly have a profound effect on the whole situation. Moreover, that would give a chance for all those nations who are ready and willing to relieve the conditions of all the refugees in Europe, to carry out that portion of the experts' recommendations, which confirm the original Anglo-American committee report, that the British and United States governments "in association with other countries should immediately endeavor to find new homes for all displaced persons, irrespective of creed or nationality."

SOMEWHAT OFF KEY

VANCOUVER HAS PRODUCED A NEW political theme song. Veteran parliamentary correspondent Austin Cross of Ottawa wrote the words and music a few weeks ago for "Western Business And Industry," a monthly journal for "Canadian Executives" published in the mainland city. The title of the ditty was "Jimmy Sinclair for Premier." Names of the copyright owners are not mentioned. It is presumably one of a British Columbia song cycle, for the current issue of the publication in question editorially deprecates the Coalition government's retention of Hon. George Pearson as Minister of Labor against the latter's will. So the magazine for "Canadian Executives" wants this portfolio transferred to "a stronger and more broad-visioned individual who will probably hold the job for years." There is nothing of the Austin Cross fantasy about this. But we cannot hear Hon. George responding with "I Hear You Calling Me," or "Nanaimo, Here I Come."

Now the Vancouver Sun has revamped in its news columns the Cross version of Mr. Sinclair to succeed Mr. Hart as Premier and leader of the Liberal Party of British Columbia. Our contemporary does not even publish an acknowledgment to the unnamed copyright owners. In the interests of propriety and with due deference to the modesty of the subject, however, it reports that the federal member for North Vancouver—just back from Ottawa—merely received the inspired suggestion with "enigmatic laughter and no comment." That was generous and proper of him. But the Sun is nothing if not realistic; for its knowledge of Vancouver politics evokes the supplementary comment that "whether Mr. Sinclair would be welcomed as provincial leader is problematical," since "sources of the 'older school' do not think present legislative material is so unsuitable that a federal member need be brought in to head the party." Our maverick says our able contemporary has guessed right; and if it feels like saying that the "Jimmy-Sinclair-for-Premier" ballad is away off key, the bet is doubled.

TOLE OF CARELESSNESS

STATISTICS OF "TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS" for the first three months of 1946 in British Columbia showed an increase of 51.9 per cent over the same period in 1945. In Ontario accidents are running 53 per cent higher than last year. Victoria's Chief of Police J. A. McLellan attributes the increase in automobile accidents to worn out conditions of motor vehicles, heavier traffic, and excessive drinking. The Ontario Minister of Highways, Mr. Doucett, places the blame "in the vast majority of cases to impatience, preoccupation and poor judgment on the part of motorists and of people on foot." The verdict given by both these authorities can be summed up in the word carelessness—which is another means of expressing lack of consideration for other people. This is also another way of expressing intolerance for the other person's point of view.

A WAY OF LIFE

THE GENERAL IDEA THAT FARMING as a "way of life" means being tied down in a rural community lacking the facilities for having a good time, is said to be the chief complaint "the younger generation have against farm work. They are willing enough to drive a tractor or handle other machinery for a certain number of hours at a stated wage, but they hesitate to be tied down to the regular hours entailed by feeding stock or milking cows. They want the week-end off like workers in urban industries, and they also desire the "security" of a wage sufficient to insure a "good time" without having to worry about markets.

Aside from the question of temperament and character, it is probable many are in pursuit of a security which is just as elusive as happiness. They want satisfaction but are they mindful of what satisfaction consists? They demand freedom without the responsibility of creating it for themselves.

UNEASY SPECULATION

EXACTLY WHAT CAUSED THE SPLIT in the Turkish government which made it impossible to continue is a matter of uneasy speculation. The official explanation that domestic affairs created the crisis seems inadequate in view of the great victory won by the Republican People's Party in the recent free elections. Demands for independence made by the Turkish Kurds might be regarded as a purely domestic concern if they did not involve all the border states of eastern Turkey. The appointment of a military leader, General Recep Peker, as Prime Minister, therefore, may have some bearing on the domestic situation. What goes on in all these border states and in the Persian Gulf and Palestine, directly or indirectly, involves Turkey; and it seems evident that London and Washington are not the only places where statesmen lie awake at nights endeavoring to solve the puzzles of the Middle East.

Lying between the Black Sea and Mediterranean, incidentally, Turkey, "enjoys" a geographical and strategic position in the affairs of the Middle East which, obviously, is immensely important. But as a Mohammedan power and the former possessor of the Caliphate, in the person of the Sultan, the Arab world, which was formerly in tribute to Turkey as part of that Empire, must still regard the men of Ankara as a force in the affairs of the Middle East. The Arab League cannot ignore Turkey any more than Turkey can ignore the Arab League.

The virtue of philosophers is patience. They have learned that crises peter out if you give them time.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP

LONDON.

BRITAIN'S GREAT EXPERIMENT

A SECOND SIGHT of London after Paris produces even more forcibly the impression of violent contrast. In this dubious summer of the first postwar year Paris is like an exquisitely beautiful fruit perfect in all its contours, perfect in its rose and gold but with a worm within. London is like a fruit gnarled and weather-damaged but sound and of good flavor.

Some time passed here before the peace conference left a conflict of impressions which return as pictures. There was the queue of women of all ages who had lined up early at the door of a little grocery in a badly blitzed side street to get a few tomatoes off the ration. Their clothes were dowdy; their faces a little strained but the weather for once was good and they gossiped cheerfully. They seemed somehow to sum up the willingness of the British people to endure a good deal in order to do the job they conceive to be ahead.

IN CONTRAST THERE was the lobby of Claridge, which is the one place where London's prewar atmosphere of luxury and ease has somehow been preserved. The men and women coming and going or pausing for a drink together still looked what they had been before the war—members of an immensely privileged class. Yet although one hears no bitter outcries against "that man at No. 10 Downing Street," the time of privilege has passed in a way which prosperous visitors cannot even conceive. And somehow on entering Claridge one felt that this was like a low island in a flood where all sorts of non-aquatic beasts crowd together until the water rises a foot higher.

Then, too, there was the scene in Parliament when a very dull speaker droned out to almost empty benches the explanation of a revolutionized colonial policy much in the manner of an earnest but unpopular clergyman reading a rather long second lesson. Here were great changes announced in a manner in the last degree unexciting. And for contrast there was the evening with a group of the young planners who cluster around the Lord President of the Council Herbert Morrison and compose the inner brains trust of the Labor government. They talked with fire and deep excitement of national plans, "national experiments" and a great national effort to remake a nation now poor in capital, not rich in raw materials, but strong in determination and in political skill.

It was they more than any others who struck the characteristic note of the new London. To this American who knew the Washington of Franklin Roosevelt there was something reminiscent in the air. Suddenly one realized that it was like the most stirring days of the New Deal before the division in the country grew too deep when the bustle of immense new development seemed likely to go on forever.

THERE WERE SHARP differences also. The absence of any single leader with Roosevelt's power to charm and to excite, and the presence in tired faces and battered streets of innumerable reminders of a long, hard impoverishing war made the atmosphere vastly less electric. But to compensate one did not have that suspicion that was unavoidable in New Deal Washington—the suspicion that each morning the President or Tom Corcoran or someone else rose from his bed with the glad question: "What will it be fun to do today?"

On the contrary, the British experiment in democratic socialism is proceeding according to a complex but soberly-considered plan in which all the major steps were announced to the people before the last election. It is a plan to do what no state in the past has ever "attempted." The British people have been asked to sacrifice the present to the future—to accept extreme discomfort and austerity now in order to restore their country's place as a great power and to acquire for themselves the better individual life which the Labor Party promises. The sacrifices must be made essentially because Britain is short of working capital. Money must be accumulated by exports to finance the new socialist economy. If the experiment works a brand new kind of economy will emerge. No sacrifices which the British people could conceivably make would ever accumulate for them again enough working capital to finance a free economy on the American pattern. Therefore, they must sacrifice freedom in the economic field while preserving it in every other.

THIS DOES NOT by any means require state interference with every business process. On the contrary, most businessmen and farmers will carry on almost as before. The state will not attempt to control anything but the basic levers which in turn control the national economic life—credit investment policy and the great basic and monopolistic industries. By manipulation of these levers the whole machine will be made to operate efficiently but on a much closer margin than the American. The economy will be guided and directed toward a greater productivity while far-reaching measures of social welfare raise the level of life and assure minimum well-being to all.

That is the fundamental concept of the new British socialism. As a fundamental concept it is accepted by the British Tories who understand equally well the hard realities of the national situation and differ from the Labor Party largely in desiring not to go so far or so fast. No one can tell at this moment whether such an experiment will work. The sacrifices demanded may prove too much for the people. The very complexity and largeness of the plan may cause its breakdown.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By GLENN HABB
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst
(Substituting for DeWitt Mackenzie)

Overshadowed by the noisy place conference at Paris, another international gathering in Geneva is grappling with the vast dislocations and sufferings left by the war. In the home of the defunct League of Nations the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration is preparing for its own passing, but with the hope that other agencies will embody its spirit and mission.

There is grave uncertainty whether this can or will be done. Hope for continuation of the fight against the tremendous sum of hunger and homelessness arising from the war rests in various agencies of the United Nations—with which Unrra has only the slightest connection. But the time left for Unrra grows short and the United Nations, for all the good will and high intentions of its champions, moves ponderously and slowly, dependent on decision of its unit nations, in some of which governmental processes are none too rapid.

The Geneva meeting is the fifth general council of Unrra, and its last. The three countries which have borne most of the financial burden—the United States, which has furnished nearly three-quarters of the funds, and the United Kingdom and Canada, from which has come 80 per cent of the other quarter—have decided that Unrra's work in Europe shall end Dec. 31 and in the Orient next March 31. By that time Unrra will have expended nearly $4,000,000,000.

Representing Canada at the Geneva meeting are Finance Minister Heley and L. B. Pearson, Ambassador to the United States.

Both Americans who have served as Unrra's directors-general—Herbert H. Lehman, who headed it from its formation until his resignation last March, and Florentino H. La Guardia, now at Geneva—have declared that great suffering will result if there is a hiatus between the end of Unrra and the time new United Nations agencies are ready to function. But the outlook for bridging this gap smoothly is not bright. The United Nations has made a beginning toward assuming Unrra's responsibilities, but little more.

Letters To The Editor

NURSES' OFFICIAL REPLIES For the past several days the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia has been the target for much unwarranted and unfair criticism in the public press, criticism seeming to stem largely from those organizations which the association has made every effort to help during the difficult war years. The time has come when the public should be made aware of a few of the facts of the situation.

The Registered Nurses' Association has consistently made every effort to help hospitals and other agencies obtain the much needed staff to enable them to carry on civilian services. It was with this purpose in mind that the Canadian Nurses' Association advised provincial nurses' associations to issue "temporary war emergency" permits or take some similar means to encourage the utilization of all available nursing power. Thus the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia went beyond its normal function and issued temporary permits to nurses not registered in this province. Since the qualifications of permit holders were known to have been investigated, the permits were welcomed by hospitals and other employing institutions as they constituted a measure of protection against grossly unqualified personnel.

Everyone knows that the war years brought a shortage due to increased demand for nursing service, not to a decrease in the number of nurses engaged in civilian nursing. Actually the number of registered nurses in practice in British Columbia increased by 55 per cent during the past six years. This was in part due to the 977 nurses from other provinces and countries who secured registration in British Columbia during the war years. This number includes many nurses who formerly held permits and who later applied and were accepted for registration.

The shortage of nurses persists and is likely to continue since nursing service needs are constantly expanding; but the war emergency is over. Even as a war emergency measure, the legal right of the association to issue permits has been questioned. In view of this fact, the Registered Nurses' Association has no choice but to discontinue the issuance of temporary permits. Permit holders who have maintained contact with the association were given advance notice and final notices were sent two months in advance of cancellation date.

The cancellation of war permits affects a very small group of permit holders—those not eligible for registration and at present employed by hospitals conducting schools of nursing. To our knowledge, there are only 15 nurses employed in the seven hospitals conducting schools of nursing who are adversely affected by the withdrawal of war emergency permits. The service of these nurses need not be lost to the public as there is ample employment for every nurse in the province and the only legal restriction on non-registered graduate nurses is that they are not eligible for positions on the nursing staffs of hospitals conducting schools of nursing. There are today 497 vacancies listed with the placement service conducted by this association—of these vacancies less than one-third are in hospitals which conduct schools.

One other point should be made, this is—cancellation of permits does not constitute dismissal from employment, it merely places the responsibility for employment where it rightfully belongs—namely on the employer. Employers are governed by certain laws; the issuance or cancellation of temporary nursing permits has no bearing on the law, one way or another.

COTTON WATERPROOFED

During World War II an epoch-making discovery was made by Britain's textile industry, namely the manufacture of cotton materials which are completely waterproof. At present it is hardly possible to assess the value of this discovery to the textile industries of the whole world, says the British Information Bulletin. The new materials have made their first appearance at a fashion display in Manchester and have aroused great admiration amongst experts from all nations.

Tuesday's Bride To Live in Windsor

Leaving shortly to make their home in Windsor, Ont., will be Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Robinson Hughes, who were married Tuesday evening at 7.30 in the Queen of Peace Church, Esquimalt, by Father Lewis MacLellan.

The bride is Theresa Mary Rose Leahy, daughter of Thomas Leahy, 27 Burnside Road, and the late Mrs. Leahy, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Lucier, Windsor. Mrs. Smith played the wedding music and Thomas White was the soloist.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with tulle and lace inserts, the bodice featuring a round neckline, lily point sleeves and puffed and bertha of lace. Her finger-tip veil was arranged beneath a Mary Stuart head-dress and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and red roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Georgina Rymers as matron of honor, wearing a gown of turquoise blue crepe with shepherdess neckline and cape sleeves. Misses Margaret and Ellen Leahy were bridesmaids, wearing twin frocks of powder blue with peasant necklines and accordion-pleated skirts. All three wore pink lace mitts and floral headpieces and carried loose colonial bouquets of sweet peas and carnations.

Thomas Leahy was best man and the ushers were John and Bernard Leahy. A reception was held at the home of the bride, where the guests were received by her sister, Miss Nora Leahy. Harold Lineham proposed the bride's toast.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Vancouver and Qualicum Beach Hotel, the bride wore a dress-maker suit of blue silk gabardine with fuchsia topcoat and navy blue accessories.

Elope—And Return to Work in 3 Hours

Screen actress Evelyn Keyes and writer-director John Huston, son of famed star Walter Huston, eloped, were married at Las Vegas, Nev., and less than three hours later were, as pictured above, back at work on the set of "Johnny O'Clock," in which the bride appears.

Canadian Women Must Awake To Terrible Need In Europe

"I wish I could impress upon every Canadian woman some realization of the effects of war on the women of Europe," Miss Lillian Thomson, general secretary of the National Council of the Y.W.C.A., declared on her recent return from Europe.

"Never have I seen such evidence of poor physical health, shaken nerves, and downright poverty," she continued. "It is heartbreaking."

Miss Thomson went to Geneva, Switzerland, to attend a series of meetings of the World's Council of the Y.W.C.A. where 20 different countries were represented.

Referring to the food situation in Europe, the secretary emphasized that Canadians have got to recognize the fact that there is a "very real and terrible need" for food in parts of that continent today. Despite the fact that the condition has improved considerably in Holland, Belgium and parts of France, now that summer crops and market gardens have come to the rescue, the food situation in other parts of France and Germany are still appalling.

"If the women of Canada could see these conditions for themselves," she observed, "they would get behind Canada's food conservation program 100 per cent, especially where wheat is concerned."

Speaking of the 850,000 displaced persons in Europe today, Miss Thomson said they need a "hope for the future" more than anything else.

DISPLACED PERSONS

"Most of the displaced persons are Estonians, Latvians and Poles," she explained. "Their chief worry is where they can find a permanent home, and what the future holds for them. Their second need is for clothing, especially footwear."

Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. workers, in conjunction with Unrra are doing a splendid job in camps for displaced persons, providing much needed recreation, Miss Thomson reported.

Of her brief visit to Britain, the secretary reported that the people there seemed to be pulling themselves out of the depths of war quite rapidly. In comparison, she predicted that the people of Europe would never be able to forget the horrors of war they had witnessed as long as they lived.

The National Council of the Y.W.C.A. will hold its next World Conference in the fall of 1947 in China, at the invitation of the Y.W.C.A. of that country.

Women Workers' Hotel

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—A modern and luxurious hotel for women industrial workers has just been opened at Sydney's famed Bondi Beach.

The hotel, which houses 100 girls, has been established by a progressive firm of clothing manufacturers, to encourage women to join their staff. Ex-servicewomen and those who worked in industry during the war, are showing a marked preference for "glamor jobs" rather than factory work, but the clothing firm believes that by providing attractive accommodation they will persuade girls to re-enter the trade.

Formerly used by the Royal Navy to accommodate Wrens, the hotel is well furnished and equipped. There is a communal laundry, hot and cold water in all bedrooms, and a spacious lounge and writing-rooms on all floors.

String Section—For fiesta stripes of colored string to glamorize a plain glass pitcher or tumbler or jug, cut off a length and hold both ends against the glass, one pointing up and the other down. Wind downward. When the stripe is wide enough, pull the up-pointing end through till the whole band is tight. Cut off both ends with a razor blade. Finish with clear shellac.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: How much do parents owe their children? I let my son bring into my home his star bride, as we felt that we owed that to him after his service in the army, but instead of being co-operative they have landed on us for support. He does very little and she absolutely nothing.

My wife is in very poor health, but she has to wait on them as if she were a servant. Daughter-in-law asks me for money, drives my car and has turned our well-kept home into a pig-pen. She never helps with the housework. Is it the duty of parents to support their grown, able-bodied children? How can I free my home of these parasites?

DESPERATE DAD.

Answer: When parents have fed, clothed and educated their children and given them a helping hand in time of need, they have done their full duty by them from the financial standpoint. It is then up to the children. When parents let their children become parasites upon them, they do them the greatest possible wrong because they kill their initiative and encourage them to becoming loafers and idlers.

Your play now is to stiffen your backbone and tell your dead-beat son and his wife that they must get out and be on their own. And make them do it.

Travel Chief Urges Improved Highways, Prewar Courtesy

He sells Canada with Irish wit and Maritime business acumen. His name—Leo Dolan. His position—director of the Dominion Government Travel Bureau, Ottawa.

Addressing a combined luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club and Chamber of Commerce in the Empress Grill, Tuesday, Mr. Dolan urged support for administrations which would embark on a program "of fine highways in the various provinces, a return to courtesy, hospitality and fair dealing and establishment of a national courtesy and a distinctive Canadian cuisine."

"No industry has such an immediate effect on the national economy of the country as the tourist industry," he said. "It benefits everyone from the banker to the bootblack. We will have 22,000,000 visitors in Canada this year for stays of 24 hours to six months.

"Some $160,000,000 was spent by U.S. tourists in Canada last year and it may reach $200 to $225,000,000 this year. The way the figures are going we may reach an all-time record both in number of tourists and money."

HIGHWAY PROGRAM

If Canada hopes to maintain an increase in its tourist industry, all citizens must support administration which will embark on a highways program, he said. Ontario has the finest highways, he continued, adding that the investment was the most profitable on any money voted by the legislature.

"Eighty-five to 90 per cent of all the traffic coming to Canada comes on rubber wheels," Mr. Dolan said.

He urged establishment of national courtesy and high degree of fair dealing. He advocated travel across Canada by Canadians and said the latter did not talk about the achievements of their country as they might. Sooner or later Canadians were going to be faced with the building of a superstructure on the foundation laid by confederation, he said, referring to the need, for Canadians from the east and west to get to know one another better through travel.

Robin Wood, young Victoria pianist, played three numbers at the luncheon meeting. Denis Hagar, Kiwanis Club president, announced that the club would sponsor a farewell concert by Mr. Wood in the Victoria High School, August 27. Mr. Wood leaves Sept. 1 to take a scholarship at the Royal Academy of Music, London, awarded him in 1941.

Major H. C. Holmes, president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced Mr. Dolan.

Veterans Get Supply Priorities Now For Half-Built Homes

To aid veterans in completing houses, they will now be given priorities for building supplies if they have their homes 50 per cent complete, Maj. S. H. Okell, assistant district administrator of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, said today.

Previously D.V.A. would as-ist veterans in obtaining supplies only if their homes were 75 per cent complete.

Maj. Okell stressed that the veterans must exhaust all efforts to get supplies on their own, and have had orders standing a "reasonable time" before D.V.A. will step into the picture.

A house is regarded as 50 per cent complete if the roof is in place and the house is ready for plastering. Application for priority must be accompanied by a recommendation from a veteran's officer, citizens' rehabilitation committee official, an official of the Canadian Legion, a

China Asks Delay

NEW YORK (AP)—China demanded Tuesday that action on outer Mongolia's application for membership in the United Nations be delayed for at least a year to give members of the organization time to learn more about the Soviet-supported government.

Bremner-Barton Gain Men's Rinks Final

West Point Grey and Nanaimo squads skipped by John Bremner and Joe Barton, respectively, fought their way into the final of the men's rinks competition yesterday in the five-day holiday tournament staged annually under the stewardship of the Greater Victoria Lawn Bowling Association.

Splendid weather was the order for the tournament's second day, play opening at 9 in the morning and continuing through for 11 hours to finish under floodlights.

The semifinals bringing to the cream of the men's foursomes saw the two finalists emerge with victory margins of two points.

The West Point Grey unit, composed of G. H. Morrill, Joe Sluggert, D. McCullough and Bremner (skip), took the measure of association president Charles Fea's Victoria West quartet 12 to 10 in one of the semifinals. In the other the Nanaimo contingent of George Barton, Bill N. Shearer, John Sutherland and J. Barton (skip) out-bowed a South Vancouver squad skipped by D. Macquoen 14 to 12 to gain the final round, in which the Fort Garry Cup is the prize.

FINALS ON SATURDAY

The two top men's teams will fight it out in the final Saturday.

Results of men's rink section playoffs are as follows:

Sections 1 and 2—Charles Fea, Victoria West; defeated J. Lang, South Vancouver, 14 to 11.

Sections 3 and 4—J. F. Bremner, West Point Grey, defeated S. Keenlyside, Mount Pleasant, 11 to 10.

Sections 5 and 6—D. Macquoen, South Vancouver, defeated R. D. Brown, Cumberland, 18 to 12.

Sections 7 and 8—J. Barton, Nanaimo, defeated W. Kenmuir, Nanaimo, 20 to 17.

WOMEN'S RINKS

Play progressed considerably in the women's rinks' competition, with one finalist decided. In the women's section 4, three teams wound up in a saw-off with eight points apiece to necessitate a rolloff for the section laurels. Miss McCready's North Vancouver team handed Mrs. H. Allison's Burnaby rink a 5 to 2 setback in a three-end match, but it was Mrs. T. Dodge's Duncanites who came through with the section honors by defeating the McCready team 4 to 0.

Mrs. Wallace's Victoria West four, winner of Section five, defeated Mrs. Dodge 20 to 4 in a semifinal to gain a finalist position. In section three there was another playoff to decide the section winner, the Hastings East team, skipped by Mrs. D. McDonald, defeating Mrs. C. L. McEwen's Duncan quartette 4 to 2. Lake Hillers skipped by Mrs. W. Peddle, section one winners, and Victoria club players skipped by Mrs. G. Upward, section two winners, fought it out in a play-off in which the Peddle unit climbed out with a 21 to 5 verdict.

Mrs. Upward's team now plays Mrs. McDonald's four to determine the other finalist to oppose Mrs. Wallace's Victoria West bowlers in the final.

While a good portion of yesterday was devoted to rinks play for both sexes, under the lights on the greens of the five clubs singles competition for men and women got under way and, in some cases, advanced to the third round. Play in this department will not resume until Thursday evening as all today is earmarked for men's and women's doubles.

Rainiers Rise Up To Register Win Over Leading Seals

The Seattle baseball club, that haven for athletes seeking work since Jo Jo White took over a revamped job, isn't looking for a pennant this year but gets a kick out of walloping the boys who are.

Manager White's remodeling has been short on dividends and the Rainiers have given deeper into the Pacific Coast League cellar, but Seattle faithful numbering 5,502 wildly cheered their club's 5 to 1 defeating of the San Francisco Seals last night.

The defeat left the leading Seals, pompous after their severe drubbing of the challengers last week, only three games ahead of the winning, second-place Oakland A's.

Oakland turned back the San Diego Padres 4 to 2, but manager Pepper Martin of the losers today registered a protest over an umpire's decision in the fourth inning.

The Portland Beavers, behind the seven-hit hurling of Jack Salveson, nosed out the Hollywood Stars, 2 to 1. All runs were unearned.

UPLANDS GOLF

All members of the Uplands Golf Club who will take part in the mixed foursomes Thursday are asked to be on hand by 5.30. The draw has been posted in the caddy shop and women's locker room.

Bay Girls Reach Fastball Finals; Esquimalt Winner

Ivan Temple's Hudson's Bay girls advanced into the women's B division playoff finals last night when they took the measure of Walter Yeamans' Hopefuls, 10 to 1, in the deciding game of their best-of-three series.

The Bays will go up against the victors of the Adverts and Army and Navy Taxi two-out-of-three series for the overall B women's city championship. This series will be a best-of-five affair.

Fans who watched senior B men's A section teams, Esquimalt Meat Market and Brentwood Aces, hook up in a playoff diamond duel last evening were treated to a close, tight battle in which the Butcher boys squeezed through with a 2 to 0 decision.

Winner of this best-of-three series opposes the winners of the Mollie's Bar B-Q vs. Dockyard Civil Service Club series for the A section laurels and this will be followed by a playoff scrap between the A and B-top nines for the B division laurels.

GET WIN THROUGH HOMERS

Marketmen snared their victory through scoring punch provided by two home runs, Raftery and hurler G. Kinch of the victors piling out the four-baggers. In the Bays-Hopefuls quarrel it was Flo Kennedy who piloted the store girls to victory on the mound. In the men's meeting, Jim Turner of the Aces was injured when he collided with a bench while endeavoring to collar a foul hit.

Army and Navy Vets are the victors of their men's B-B section playoff with Penguins. They made it two straight after winning last week's game when the Penguins failed to turn out for their scheduled meeting last night.

Duffy's Cafe were unable to field a team and as a result Oak Bay Athletics won this juvenile playoff by the default route.

Coach Temple of the Bays reports an invitation has been received by his club to participate in exhibition games with senior A women's teams in Portland and Seattle.

Tonight, at 6.30, at Central Park, senior A men's squads, Crows and Hoyle-Brown, will tangle in their third game of their best-of-seven series for the city crown. Crows won the first and the teams wound up all even after 11 innings in the second.

Bailey, Russell Best Marksmen

W. Russell and Ted Bailey were the top marksmen in Sunday's shoot of the Victoria Gun Club at the Albert Head Road grounds when they placed first in the resumption of competition in two trap trophy chases.

Russell, displaying a fine shooting eye, cracked 24 out of a possible 25 clays to win a leg on the Colonist Cup competition, while Bailey was forced to shoot off with Clarke Atchison for the laurels in the second leg of the Humber Cup event. They posted 23 out of 25, and in the shoot-off Bailey came out best by equaling his earlier performance, two short of a possible.

Victoria Hockey Stars Proud Fathers

Outstanding in the world of hockey a couple of Victoria boys are seen in a new role. Murray, left, and Lynn Patrick, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Patrick, pose with their offspring. Muzz holds his daughter, Lynn, and Lynn his young son Craig. The brothers are spending the summer months in their home town before returning east to resume their hockey activities.

Giants Still Troublesome

Knock Off Dodgers 5-2

Mel Ott's lowly New York Giants, 15 games behind the leader with 52 to go, are in a hopeless position in the National League pennant race, but you never could prove it by the contending St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers.

When the Brooks really needed to take one with a chance to stretch their lead to a full three games, last night, they couldn't bump off their rivals from Manhattan.

Lefty Dave Koss, touched for five hits in three innings, tightened up and held the Dodgers' hitless rest of the way in recording his 12th victory of the season, 5 to 2. The result reduced Brooklyn's first place margin to two games. The Cardinals were rained out of their game at Pittsburgh.

Chicago pulled out of a three-game losing spin to smother Cincinnati 3 to 0 on Claude Passeau's four-hit pitching. The Bruins trounced the Dodgers by 7-4 lengths.

Boston Braves proved they still can beat the Phillies, although outlived by a 10 to 5 margin when they rushed over two runs in the 12th inning to earn a 3 to 1 edge for Johnny Sain.

RED SOX WIN

In the American League, Boston Red Sox marched another step closer to clinching the pennant with a 5 to 0 romp over Philadelphia behind Tex Hughson's five-hit pitching.

Bobby Doerr blazed his 15th homer of the season with Wally Moses on base in the first inning to start Hughson off to his 12th triumph. It was Dick Fowler's 11th setback.

Two unearned runs on three St. Louis errors helped Detroit record a 3 to 1 victory over the Browns despite a four-hit pitching job by Jack Kramer. Al Benton's fourth victory enabled the Tigers to climb to within a single game of the second-place New York Yankees whose scheduled night game at Washington was postponed by rain.

Chicago's White Sox enjoyed one of their best hitting days of the season, bowling over Cleveland, 11 to 1 on 16 blows.

There Is No Reason Why Men Should Go Bald

Men's hair, like a plant requires a fertile soil on which to thrive. The scalp must be pliable, moving easily over the skull, and it must also be free of dandruff. Dandruff is a collection of worn-out skin cells mixed with sweat and oil. When dandruff is allowed to accumulate it chokes the roots, killing the hair. Do not become frightened if a tremendous amount of hair falls out, for the hairs that come out are simply loose, weak ones, which are better out so that they may be replaced by strong, virile hair.

"How I Saved My Hair" is an article every man should read if he does not want to become a bald-headed person. The July Edition of the new Physical Culture Magazine carries this interesting article and is now at your magazine dealers.

Physical Culture Magazine is distributed on Vancouver Island by Lovick's New Agency, Victoria, B.C.

Fish and Game Club To Sponsor Public Salmon Competition

The Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association is entering the field of salmon derbies this year.

Decision to this effect was made at the association's meeting. The competition which will be open to the public with a nominal entrance fee, charged, will be held during the latter part of August or the first week in September and scene of the affair will be the waters off the city and district waterfront.

Meeting favored a week-long salmon hunt with prizes at stake instead of a single day affair. Idea is to establish a fish-hobby with the big ones caught each day registered. The competitors weighing in the largest over the period take the prizes.

Rules and water bounds in the derby will be announced shortly. "It will be open to kids and grown-ups alike," said secretary Ted McConnan.

A delegation was struck to meet the city council to thoroughly go into the matter of use of rifles and construction of rifle butts at the association Goldstream Park site which is to become the sportsmen's home.

AGAINST PLAN

Regarding the closing of Cowichan Bay to grise-fishing from May 1 to August 15, as requested by the Cowichan Club, the meeting voted "not in favor" and delegates to the meeting of the island affiliated associations this month will present that as an expression from the local club.

The over-all conservation of fish and game on Vancouver Island, the topic that originally was labeled the chief business of the meeting got sidetracked somewhat due to pressure of other business. However, it was finally decided to leave the making of recommendations on conservation to the executive.

The Victoria Gun Dog Club, which is affiliated with the fish-game club, will hold trials for setters and pointers in the Cowichan Lake country before Labor Day, it was announced. Trials will be given full co-operation by the association. Tom Dicks and Tom Brown represent the gun dog unit on the association executive.

LIFE SUSPENSION

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois racing board Tuesday barred Jockey Robert L. (Bud) Vedder, 26, of Nickerson, Kan., from the track for life on a charge of attempted bribery in a race at Arlington Park July 13.

The suspension was tantamount to a ban at all tracks in the United States since other state racing associations comply with individual state rulings.

Jensen In Courageous Stand To Beat Yakima

Turning in the most courageous pitching trick seen at the local ball yard this season, Bob Jensen came up with his 13th mound-victory of the season last night as Victoria Athletics nosed out Yakima Stars, 7 to 6, to open their seven-game Western International League series.

Beset with a bad case of control trouble all evening Jensen relied on his solid right arm and a big heart to keep fogging the ball in there. The fireballer gave up 13 walks, four of which cost him runs, but to balance the ledger the right-hander struck out a baker's dozen, to boost his strikeout total for the season to 224 and practically assure himself of a new league record.

Jensen, already the idol of Victoria fans, further entrenched himself by his performance. In the fifth-inning big Bob walked the first three batters to face him, then promptly struck out the side. He also retired three men on strikes in the sixth with a walk sandwiched between.

HITS BALL ALSO

Jensen also took a hand in the offensive part of the picture. In the fourth inning he blasted a single against the centre-field fence, scoring Billy Dunn and Walt Raimondi who had hit safely and moved up on Bob Paulson's sacrifice.

Manager Ted Norbett's coaching of catcher Paulson in his batting stance paid off when the young backstop rapped a clean single through the shortstop position in the second inning to drive home Athletics first two runs.

After Garbe's blooper single had given Yakima a lone run in the first inning Jensen shut the door until the seventh. Two free passes and singles by Peterson and Kralovich resulted in a pair of runs. In the eighth bases on balls put the first two men on the bags and singles by Kralovich, Dawson and Garbe, along with an error by third baseman Raimondi, allowed the Stars three runs to tie the count.

Winning run in the ninth resulted in a wild outburst on the part of the Yakima players over decision by umpire Harris at the plate. With one away Bob Cherry drew a walk. Dunn a single into left field and, when the ball got away from outfielder Spencer Harris, Cherry was waved on through to the plate and called safe in a cloud of dust. The beef was on but soon cooled off as Harris scampered to the safety of the umpire's room.

Athletics fielded a makeshift line-up with Cherry taking over at first base and Beans Marineti out of action with a sore wrist.

Strait was the starting pitcher for Yakima but left under fire in the fourth and reliever Kralovich was charged with the defeat.

RACE TIGHTENS

Tacoma's 11 to 2 victory over front-running Wenatchee, coupled with Bremerton's 6 to 2 defeat of Spokane narrowed the league race into another dog fight last night.

Results of the two encounters left Wenatchee but three games ahead of runner-up Bremerton. Tacoma in fourth place is 8½ games off the pace.

Vancouver slapped the slipping Salem Senators 5 to 3. Tacoma's triumph was peaked by Roy Peterson's three-run homer in the first inning which provided Steve Gerkin with all the margin he needed to mark up his 15th mound triumph against nine defeats. Gerkin was released by Salem last week.

Bremerton spanked Spokane's Milt Cadinha for 12 hits including Bill Reese's homer and Bill Baris.

Athletics Obtain New First Baseman

Victoria Athletics came up with a new first baseman today. He is Chuck Suyar, property of the Sacramento Club of the Coast League. Suyar, who played the entire 1944 season as the regular Solon's first sacker, throws and bats right-handed.

As were expected to complete the deal for Suyar late this afternoon and he should join the club late this week.

Benny Lynch Dies Suddenly in Glasgow

GLASGOW (CP)—Benny Lynch, 33, former world fly-weight boxing champion, died suddenly Tuesday night in hospital.

Women Jam Court To Hear Grisly
'Jack The Ripper' Murder Charges

LONDON (AP)—Neville George Clevely Heath Tuesday was accused of stripping, robbing, obscenely mutilating and killing beautiful Doreen Marshall in a fashionable south coast pleasure grove last July 4.

The grisly indictment was presented after the handsome, 29-year-old Heath stoically pleaded innocent to murdering Margery Gardner, 33-year-old film extra, in the same "horrible sadistic fashion"—and lashing and biting her body in addition—less than two weeks earlier in a London hotel room.

Young girls and women, with a sprinkling of men, packed the tiny West London police court and formed a jostling mass outside, shoving and standing on tip-toe in the hope of glimpsing the tall, wavy-haired defendant in Britain's most sensational murder case of the century.

Crown Prosecutor H. A. K. Morgan told the tragic story of Miss Marshall, 21, a former member of the Women's Royal Naval Reserve, from a "casual meeting" with her slayer at fashionable Bournemouth until the finding of her nude, blood-covered body.

"The body was found naked with the exception of one shoe," the prosecutor said. "She had been struck on the head and she had been violently assaulted. Her ribs had been broken and one of them punctured a lung."

"Her wrists had been tied together and she had been dragged along the ground while alive and while naked, and her throat had been cut twice."

"The poor girl had apparently done all she could to protect herself because her hands were deeply cut as if she had seized hold of the knife."

"After death her body had been appallingly mutilated. The upper part of the body was cut and slashed and her abdomen had been slit. There were numerous gashes and also horrible sadistic injuries which I shall not describe to you."

Heath, seated cross-legged in the dock, displayed no emotion. Asked if he had anything to say, he read from a paper:

"I plead not guilty, reserve defence and will call no witnesses here."

New Water Supply For Cowichan Bay

DUNCAN—From a strong spring augmented by a second spring and an auxiliary 5,000-gallon tank, Cowichan Bay residents will receive a plentiful supply of pure water.

Provincial Department of Health has approved plans, the funds necessary have been subscribed and a contract will be let immediately. Each subscriber will have a private electric pump as the source of supply lacks adequate gravity pressure.

Installation of a strong pump on a float has assured extra fire protection for Cowichan Bay. The pump is capable of throwing three strong streams of sea water.

It is planned to run a water main from the bay to a hydrant on Buena Vista Heights where a second pump will be kept in constant readiness.

Owner of the Buena Vista Hotel has struck a strong source of water after sinking four dry wells and drilling to a depth of 110 feet.

Audit Will Decide Power Rate Policy

An audit now is being conducted for the Public Utilities Commission of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. to establish basis for new rate structures. Dr. W. A. Carrothers, commission chairman, said today.

The work, he said, was being done by George A. Touche and Co., chartered accountants, and will take at least six weeks.

"After that the whole question of policy will have to be examined," said Dr. Carrothers, adding that for several years during the war-free power periods had been established each year. Whether or not the time has now come to set up stabilized rates is a matter that must be determined after a careful study of the reports and general conditions, he said.

He indicated it may be several months before a policy of continuance of the free light periods of a new rate structure is established.

16 Watches Stolen

Sixteen watches, valued at $553, were stolen from the window of Young's Camera Shop, 1108 Broad Street, Tuesday night.

Police who discovered the theft said the watches were taken from the window through a patched-up hole made several weeks ago by a snafu-and-run thief who stole a pair of binoculars after hurling a rock through the glass.

The loot last night included five pocket watches, two railroad watches and nine wrist watches.

Burglars broke into Meyers Photographic Studio, 615 Yates Street, overnight, but nothing was reported to have been stolen. Police discovered a rear door had been locked early in the evening.

37 Insurance Firms, Banks Face Charges Of Keeping Rents Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. government Tuesday filed a civil anti-trust suit against 37 insurance companies, savings banks and commercial banks, seeking an injunction to restrain them from allegedly conspiring to keep rents up and prevent new housing in some areas.

The suit asked the dissolution of the Mortgage Conference of New York, a Wall Street firm which said in a statement it was formed during the depression "to place the mortgage lending business in New York City on a more scientific basis for the good of both the lender and the borrower."

The 37 companies named individually were members of the mortgage conference, a federal prosecutor said. The Savings Bank Trust Company of New York, wholly owned by savings banks, also was listed as a defendant in the action.

The complaint, filed on recommendation of a federal grand jury which has been hearing testimony since June 11, charged the defendants agreed:

1. To enforce uniform rental policy designed to keep rents up.
2. To prevent new construction in areas where it would decrease the income from real estate in which they had substantial mortgage interests. This allegedly was accomplished by concertedly withholding mortgage financing.
3. To exclude from certain areas some minority racial and national groups by withholding mortgage financing.

The complaint charged 60 per cent of the $225,000,000 in 1945 loans for apartment buildings, office buildings, warehouses and other commercial and industrial structures in New York City were made by members of the mortgage conference.

Gangland-Style Killers Sought in Everett

EVERETT, Wash. (AP)—An Everett barber shop attendant was killed in the downtown area Thursday by one of two companions who pulled him from an automobile, shot him above the head and laid him on the sidewalk with his hands folded across his chest.

Police Capt. M. W. Stevens identified the victim as Roy Baldwin, a Negro.

The gangland-style killing occurred on Hewitt Ave. Everett's main east-west thoroughfare. Stevens said witnesses reported the two men in the car who jumped back into it and drove away at moderate speed after the shooting, were both Negroes.

County, city and state law enforcement officers joined in the search for the large 1940 sedan in the case.

Stevens said Baldwin previously resided in Seattle and Spokane and had a petty criminal record.

Repair Contract Goes To Yarrows

Yarrows Ltd. today was awarded the contract for repair to the Sapperton Park, which ran aground on Secretary Island, 14 miles from here, Monday morning, E. W. Izard, Yarrows general manager, reports.

Repairs to the Sapperton Park, which is owned by Canadian Transport Co. Ltd., Vancouver, will cost approximately $50,000, it is estimated.

The vessel is now in drydock, where a survey showed the ship's forefoot was damaged by the accident.

Failure To Sail

There is a great deal of speculation over the failure of the Russian steamship Felix Darginsky to sail for home now the Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. has completed a $300,000 conversion job on her, but no one, least of all the Russian crew, are doing anything by way of explanation.

During the last week, nearly every other day has been set as a tentative sailing date for the vessel, but today she is still tied up, her crew aboard and steam up.

Ship's papers for clearing Victoria were dated July 31. One report hinted the Russians and the shipyard were not seeing eye to eye on payment for the job done.

Tight Blockade May Be Thrown Round Palestine

LONDON (CP)—A well-informed government quarter said today Britain might institute a full-scale blockade of the Palestine coast to end illegal immigration into the Holy Land.

The informant said the British government was planning an all-out drive to end illegal immigration of European Jews into Palestine and that the land and sea operations involved might include a blockade of the coast.

A special meeting of the cabinet was held at 10 Downing Street, Prime Minister Attlee's official residence, to discuss the problem of Palestine, where some 1,500 illegal immigrants—men and women—were still held aboard ships in Haifa harbor.

They have not been permitted to leave their cramped quarters on the ships, despite unsanitary conditions, pending determination of a policy by the British government.

A five-year 75,000 immigration quota outlined in a British White Paper is about exhausted, and a new policy is to be determined. The meeting was attended by Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, and representatives of all three fighting services.

It was announced at Malta Tuesday the British cruiser Ajax had left that Mediterranean fortress island for Haifa. This movement was described in London as "not unconnected" with a blockade plan.

Near Collision In Inner Harbor

The C.P.R.'s Princess Charlotte and the Black Ball Ferry Line's Kalakala narrowly averted collision in the narrow waters between Laurel Point and Hospital Point Tuesday afternoon.

According to eye-witness reports, the Charlotte coming out from the C.P.R. docks, was prevented from going as far astern towards the Johnson Street bridge as she usually does by a fishing vessel lying in the stream.

The Charlotte then went ahead, going further on the port side of the channel than usual and came into the path of the inward-bound Kalakala.

Both vessels sounded three short blasts and put their engines hard astern.

Aviation Council Not to Meet Here

The next meeting of the B.C. Aviation Council, which was originally scheduled to be held in Victoria this fall will probably be held at Harrison Hot Springs, immediately following the Union of B.C. Municipalities meeting.

Ald. B. J. Gadsden, chairman of the Greater Victoria Airport committee, was informed today. C. E. Scanlon, president of the council of Kamloops, wired Ald. Gadsden asking for his opinion on the change of place. Ald. Gadsden and W. T. Straith, two members of the council here, agreed that it might be difficult to get municipal delegates out to two conferences in such short space of time unless they were held at the same place.

Ald. Gadsden expressed hope that the next meeting of the Aviation Council could be held in Victoria.

Cement Shortage Slows Pouring Dam

Lack of cement is holding up the building of the head dam of the B.C. Power Commission's Campbell River Hydro-electric development.

Jack Boyd, owner-manager of General Construction Co., which holds the contract for the work, said here today his men would be pouring concrete 24 hours a day now if they could get the cement.

Mr. Boyd was in Victoria to discuss with cement suppliers the possibility of getting increased supplies. He indicated that more cement may be available in the fall when the demands of cement for house-building are less.

Gay Picnic Party Ruled 'Out Of Bounds' To 'Youngsters' Under 70 Years Of Age

Soft drinks, straight from the bottle, were in order just before a sing-song. Left to right: Mrs. S. M. Arnold, 3235 Linwood Avenue, 80 years; Mrs. E. J. Dale, 543 Montefey Avenue, who is "getting on for 100" and W. H. White, 929 Johnson Street, 82.

Footraces, usually associated with picnics, were all that was lacking at Tuesday-afternoon's Victoria Aged Pensioners' Association annual outing at Beacon Hill Park. And for two pins many of the 150 members, 70 years old or more, would have given each other a good run for their money had a race or two been included on the program.

It was a happy scene in the shade of the oaks of the park as the picnicers laughed, sang, talked and enjoyed real picnic fare, proving that they were at least young in heart.

While some renewed acquaintances with reminiscences of younger years, others grouped to discuss present-day conditions, to compare the progress of their gardens and to enjoy generally each other's company.

There were picnic treats for everyone throughout the two-and-a-half hours outing, and nearly everyone seemed to "dig in" enthusiastically and without fear of consequences when a large variety of food was served.

There were dozens of hot dogs, watermelon, cantaloupe, cake, pop corn, ice cream, sandwiches, candy, soft drinks and tea on the menu as well.

"Isn't this grand? I haven't had a hot dog for years," smiled one old lady as she bit into a bun oozing with mustard. Ice cream was equally popular.

A highlight of the afternoon was the distributing of cash and scrip gifts to each picnicer by Joe North who, with W. H. Davies, was responsible for collecting $440, and most of the refreshments served. The gifts included theatre passes as well as department store scrips.

A group of primary-school-age boys and girls attracted to the scene by the music of Frank Lavery, one-man-band, gave an impromptu concert of songs which the oldsters applauded heartily. Lavery and two members of the pensioners, Oscar Scarf and William H. White, formed a violin, drums and banjo ensemble which played old-time airs and jigs, and provided an accompaniment for sing-songs.

As the picnic neared its close cars began to arrive to take some of the picnicers home. Others wandered happily through the park to catch streetcars, and some just sat quietly, probably sorry that the picnic was over so soon.

Mrs. Ross Palmer conveyed many of the picnicers back to the city, including those from the Aged Women's Home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Parker, 509 Niagara Street, both of whom are nearly 85 years of age, proved that dancing and laughing keeps a person young as they performed for the rest-of-the-old-timers on the green.

high a pitch, the performance lost climax. The play had certain elements of truth which were lost if it was played in too melodramatic a style. He felt that the players had not learned to relax on the stage, although there was good voice and ability and a lot of careful and earnest work noticeable throughout.

In commenting on the old and new styles in melodrama, Mr. Sterndale-Bennett spoke of the slow revolution that had occurred in the theatre. It had scarcely been realized, he said, because it had been so gradual, commencing with Ibsen and showing itself in various departments. Old and new styles in melodrama could be summed up in two words: "Theatrical" on one hand and for today's version, "truthful."

"INFECTIOUS FUN"

"My Nieces Must Marry" by Gail Jarl Time. Presented by Sons of X-Ray. Seignior Lodge No. 8 Drama Club (Victoria).

First Niece: Margaret Rose Second Niece: Marie Albergson Director: Anna Arvola.

The adjudicator found this "infectious fun." While it lacked technique it had a certain charm from the sheer joy of doing. Everybody on the stage was having a wonderful time, and in spite of its immaturity, he hoped that this group would stay together and develop its talent and inclination for the theatre.

UKRAINIAN PLAY

The first play in a foreign language to appear in the festival was presented by the Ukrainian Canadian Association of Victoria, who, in a preliminary announcement, wished it to be known that they were Canadian citizens.

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

Colorful costumes and melodrama were the keynotes of Tuesday-night's session of the International Drama Festival at the Royal Theatre.

Marking Civic Night, as it had been designated, Mayor Percy George and the city aldermen attended.

George Freedley, curator of the Theatre Collection, New York Public Library, spoke of the National Theatre movement in America. The American National Theatre and Academy, known as "Anta," is working toward a decentralized national theatre in every part of the country, he said. It is hoped to form a National Theatre Foundation, whose functions would be similar, dramatically, to the Rockefeller or Guggenheim Foundations. The speaker added that suggestions and comments from Canadians would be welcomed.
